

BIRDFAIR 2010
CELEBRITY LECTURE

Birdfair

"LAST CHANCE TO SEE"

A search for animals on the edge of extinction

An evening with
Mark Carwardine

Conservationist, writer and broadcaster Mark Carwardine recounts his adventures whilst making the recent, captivating BBC TV series, "Last Chance to See", together with Stephen Fry. They investigated the conservation stories behind some of the most endangered animals in the world.

The Birdfair Events Marquee
Eggleton Nature Reserve, Rutland Water
Friday 20th August 7.30 pm Price: £10

Pre-book to avoid disappointment! Advance tickets from the Birdfair Office, (tel: 01572 771079 or e-mail: info@birdfair.org.uk) or by visiting the Anglian Water Birdwatching Centre. On the day, tickets available from Birdfair Information Stand or on the door. Food and bar available on-site from 6.00 pm – make an evening of it!

THE BIRDFAIR
CELEBRITY LECTURE IS SPONSORED BY

WildSounds
www.wildsounds.com

See www.birdfair.org.uk for further details of Birdfair 2010