

Festival of Whales 2018

Fabulous opportunity to see endangered North Atlantic right whales with Mark Carwardine & Chris Breen, in the Bay of Fundy, Canada

1-9 September 2018

(organised by Wildlife Worldwide)

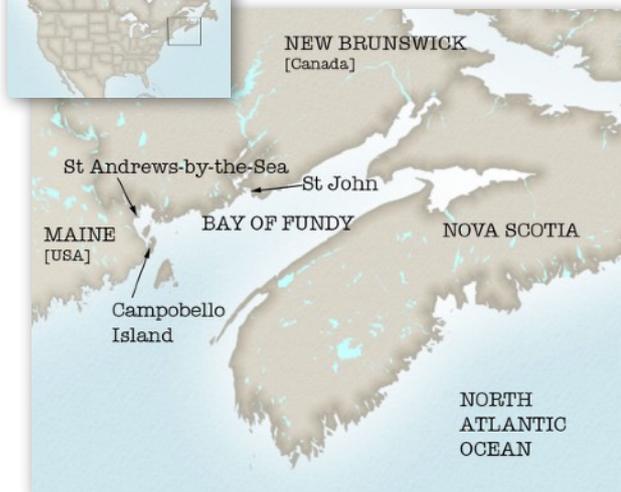

Mark has co-led several hugely popular Festival of Whales over the years. Once again, he joins Wildlife Worldwide founder, Chris Breen, and this time the location is the wonderful Bay of Fundy, southeast Canada, where the world's biggest tides create a phenomenon that attracts rich cetacean life – including the critically endangered North Atlantic right whale. By chartering a boat each day, there will be ample opportunity to encounter these enigmatic whales, together with Atlantic white-sided dolphins (left), humpback and minke whales, and many seabirds.

phenomenon that attracts rich cetacean life – including the critically endangered North Atlantic right whale.

In brief

- Maximum number of guests is 18.
- Prices range from £4,295 per person (excluding international flights) to £5,295 per person (including international flights).
- Price includes 1 night in beautiful St Andrews-by-the-Sea, 6 nights full board in fabulous accommodation in Franklin D. Roosevelt's magnificent residence on Campobello Island transfers and transport.
- Evening talks and slideshows.
- Daily whale-watching excursions aboard a privately chartered vessel, with local naturalist guides.

For more information & how to book

Please contact Wildlife Worldwide:

E: reservations@wildlifeworldwide.com T: 01962-302-086