

JOIN MARK CARWARDINE FOR A FUN AND INSPIRATIONAL WEEK OF WILDLIFE PHOTOGRAPHY IN HUNGARY

... and take some of your best pictures ever!

24 April-1 May; 1-8 May 2027

If you love photographing wildlife, this is a brilliant opportunity!

A fantastic week of photography from some of the best wildlife photography hides in the world – designed and built by Mark's great friend, multi-award-winning wildlife photographer Bence Mate.

We'll be shooting a fabulous variety of species (many very rare in the UK) in some wonderful settings and often from just a few feet away. We'll have exclusive use of the hides, too. And Mark will give advice, help and inspiration throughout.

WHAT WE'LL DO DURING THE WEEK

Our chosen location is a hotspot for strikingly healthy bird populations in Eastern Europe, and species that are largely lost in the UK. We will have unlimited and exclusive use of up to 24 wonderful hides (depending on the season) and each evening everyone can choose which hides they would like to use the following day.

They all offer unparalleled photography opportunities. For example, if you fancy shooting herons, egrets, storks and spoonbills from a few feet away you might choose the Theatre hide (which is partly underwater – you stay perfectly dry but shoot at water level with fantastic perspectives of the birds). If you'd prefer to shoot hawfinches, black woodpeckers or sparrowhawks up-close you might choose one of the Drinking Stations. Or you might fancy a morning photographing hoopoes or bee-eaters, from one of the specialist hides, or swallows collecting mud for their nests right in front of another sunken hide. You might even prefer a change from birds – otters, for example, or ground squirrels. There are several hundred ground squirrels around our accommodation (it's the largest population in Europe) and two hides specifically to photograph them. Mark will rotate between hides to spend as much time with everyone as possible.

You can start shooting at 4.00am, if you like, or have a lie-in and start much later. It's entirely up to you. Depending on the season, there will even be opportunities to shoot overnight, with natural and artificial lighting. One hide – popular for overnight shoots – has a toilet and even bedrooms.

The hides have been designed and built by Mark's friend, Bence Mate, who won Young Wildlife Photographer of the Year (six times) and Wildlife Photographer of the Year (2010) – with photographs taken from these and his other self-built hides. Mark wrote the Foreword to Bence's wonderful and inspiring book, The Invisible Wildlife Photographer. By the end of the week, you will have a stunning collection of new wildlife photographs and you'll leave inspired with lots of thoughts, suggestions and creative ideas. And, of course, it will be a lot of fun in the process. The workshops are open to beginners as well as more experienced photographers – everyone will benefit from the week (see further down for what people say about the trip).

WHERE WE WILL BE STAYING IN HUNGARY

Pusztaszer, which is a two-hour drive from Budapest – we'll organise the transfer, which is included.

WHAT PEOPLE SAY ...

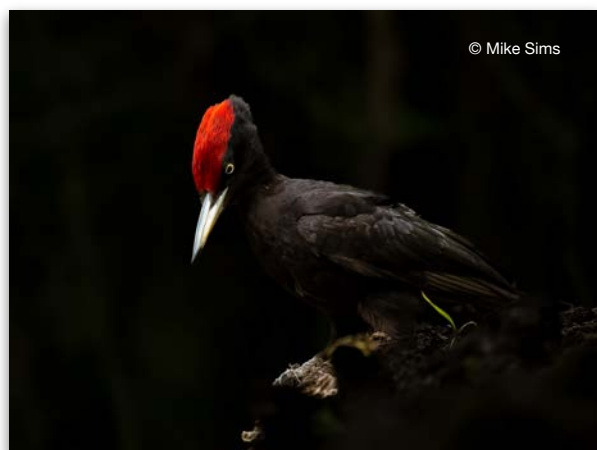

"Beautiful countryside, fabulous hides for 'up-close and personal' interaction with wildlife and a very relaxed and welcoming environment. What a wonderful holiday, I'll definitely be back for a third time."

Jacqueline Berryman (April 2023 & 2026)

"I have had many visits to the wide range of wildlife hides and what stands out for me is the good selection and diversity of experience they offer. From wading birds, storks, egrets, and otter at night, as the area is illuminated, to even beavers, which was a complete surprise to everyone. Woodland areas provide mammals such as deer, hare and maybe foxes, as well as birds of prey and many common and not-so-common birds. Each visit brings new surprises. Whether you are a passionate photographer or a wildlife observer, the farm delivers in full."

Moira Gardner (been many times!)

"I had a wonderful time with Mark and fellow photographers in Hungary. A wonderful set-up and so useful to practise photography, amazing photography in a beautiful setting – and it was great fun, too! "

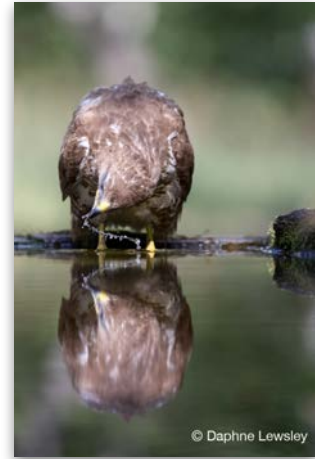

Mike Sims, April 2026

"A wildlife photographer's dream, whatever your experience. A whole week immersed in your camera, in fabulously ingenious hides providing unrivalled proximity to brilliant wildlife photo opportunities. I can't recommend this trip more highly and definitely want to return!"

Chris Brain, June 2023

"A week spent on Bence Maté's farm with Mark is one of the best experiences a wildlife photographer can have. The hides are all wonderful, but I particularly enjoyed the woodland drinking stations. The constant anticipation of the next amazing wildlife encounter means that that every session is magical. Mark has a lovely way of making sure everyone comes away a better photographer and very, very happy. Such a lovely week!"

"This is the most amazing wildlife photography trip I have ever been on and I cannot rave about it enough. Fabulous hides, excellent accommodation and beautiful location, photographing with a great group of people. It was incredible photography made perfect by being great fun – and serious without taking ourselves too seriously!"
Richard Sheldrake, January & April 2022, June 2023

"Mark's wildlife photography trip was amazing! Surrounded by national parks, this incredible farm is teeming with wildlife and the opportunity for inspirational photography is second to none. Mark took the time (and patience) to work with all of us to ensure that we got the most out of the week and the shots we wanted. It was a lot of fun as well! I came back feeling that my photography had improved significantly and inspired to do more. I hope to return for the winter season!"

"Mark is the ultimate 'camera whisperer'; you learn so much from him without ever realising he's teaching you. From zero to hero. Every day is a new challenge and a new achievement. Easily the best wildlife photographic experience that I've ever been on."
